

A worldwide community supporting family life today

In over 80 countries of the world, more than 4 million Mothers' Union members do all they can – through volunteering, giving and prayer – to support families, to promote marriage and family life, and to reach out within their communities to people who are isolated, in trouble or in need of help.

We are a grassroots movement that looks forward to, and actively works towards, a world where love and respect are the hallmarks of personal, community, national and international relationships. To this end we campaign to ensure children are protected within society, we promote gender equality and speak out on issues such as women's education, early marriage and domestic violence. We facilitate good parenting, community development and strong marriages and work within the most marginalised communities in the world to bring health education and training to eradicate poverty.

At times of distress and hardship Mothers' Union members are often the first to respond, bringing relief from hunger and homelessness caused by natural disaster or conflict, or compassion to those who feel far from God.

Mothers' UNION
Christian care for families

Building, strengthening, supporting, encouraging and healing relationships lie at the very heart of Mothers' Union.

We're not all mothers – or even all women! We are a community of people inspired by Christ to bring a humanitarian response to the needs of families around us.

If you want to ...

- help build a world where dignity, love and respect define relationships,
- do all you can to eradicate the inequalities brought about by poverty, ignorance of rights and lack of opportunity,

- meet like-minded people and have fun at the same time,

Mothers' Union membership offers opportunities for outreach, fellowship that is both local and global, and the chance to support life-changing community development.
